At just 13 years old, Grace is already the number one senior diver in Scotland. Grace trains six days a week, and with the closure of the Commonwealth Pool in Edinburgh, she spends most weekends travelling to Leeds in order to train at the highest level.

Her sport has also taken her to Texas, Russia and Montreal in pursuit of world-class performance attending the same camps as Tom Daly.

Grace has out classed the best of the USA and British young divers in her age group and remains on course to compete at LONDON 2012.

Grace is looking to build her exposure in world class events. This year, she will be focusing on being selected for the European Championships in Budapest, the World Cup in China, the European Junior Championships in Helsinki, the Junior World Championships in Arizona and the Commonwealth Games in Delhi.
